Forecast For The United Kingdom
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 0400 on Monday 21 Jun 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Wet in parts of southern England, mostly bright elsewhere.

Today:
Parts of southern England will see rain, perhaps heavy near the south coast - under any persistent rain feeling cool, emphasised by a brisk breeze. Elsewhere odd showers are possible but many areas dry with some sunshine and pleasantly warm.

Tonight:
Rain in the south easing, though odd heavier bursts may continue in the southeast - cloudier areas here staying quite mild. Elsewhere dry with clear spells, and turning out chilly.

Tuesday:
Rain in the far south and southeast clearing, then some sunshine for many areas and with light winds, it should feel pleasantly warm. Northwestern UK turning cloudy and damp later.

Outlook for Wednesday to Friday:
Cloudy in the north and west with occasional light rain and drizzle, perhaps some heavier and more prolonged rain in the northwest on Thursday. Mostly dry and bright elsewhere.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.